

Empathy is the key

REAL PEOPLE

SHARON Phillips has a real passion for supporting clients through the process of selling and buying houses.

After working as an HR manager for years, the property consultant from Century 21 Westside said she needed to try something fresh and exciting.

After doing some soul searching, Ms Phillips said she decided real estate was going to offer her the challenge she was craving.

"I love that every day is different, unpredictable and exhilarating," she said.

After going through different ups and downs with her own properties, Ms Phillips said she could empathise with the stress involved.

"My specialty is probably my ability to offer support and understanding to my clients during an often stressful time in their lives," the Bellbowrie resident said.
